Any sufficiently advanced technology is indistinguishable from magic

Great UX are indistinguishable from magic

Tech makes us all powerful wizards

Building spells
one spec at a time

WebRTC reshapes the magical field

Network is the magical ether

HTTP and HTML
barely scratched
the power of that ether

Yet HTTP and HTML have already done wonders

HTTP and HTML
have shaped the topology of our magic

WebRTC reshapes the magical field

New magical powers have already emerged

Interacting with network control, the next frontier?
